The wonderful changes that are taking place in the United States, commercially and politically, are well illustrated in the fact that Georgia is first and foremost in advocating a protective tariff. Fifty years ngo she was ready to take up arms against the enforcement of the tariff laws, and South Carolina did declare that they should be null and void within her borders. With such evidences of the departure of the country and times from the Jacksonian period one is sometimes astonished to discover local political leaders still declaring for a party as it was in that day.

On Friday, our Territory was disgraced by another of those cold-blooded murders, the victim being Mr. Leopold Furrer, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Yuma Courty. The criminal was one Wm. Donehy. a carpenter of the Southern Pacific railroad Mr. Furrer was seated in his office when Donehy entered and, without a word, opened fire from a revolver, the first shot killing the victim instantly. The shooting seems to have originated in trouble concerning the settlement of a business transaction, in which Donehy was evidently in the wrong. Much excitement prevailed and it was with difficulty that the murderer was saved from summarily stretching
